

SlipStream Software announces strategic re-seller agreement with Automaton Integração de Sistemas Ltda of Brazil

August 21, 2006

Atlanta-SlipStream Software a leading provider of Manufacturing based root cause analysis and analytical software announced a strategic re-seller relationship with Automaton Integração de Sistemas Ltda of Brazil. Automaton is a leading distributor and integrator for leading automation and process solutions for all of Brazil. This strategic re-seller agreement will allow Automaton to resell SlipStream's PM Event Analyzer, the first ever root cause analysis software focused on manufacturing along with SlipStream's upcoming real-time root cause product RT-RCA and its simulation package RT-RCA/sim.

"We see great benefit in being able to deliver to our customers a solution that provides for them the ability to make substantial improvements in their process improvement programs. Our focus at Automaton is in heavy process such as mining, pulp and paper, chemicals and oil and gas. SlipStream's root cause product suite fits nicely within our product portfolio and we feel these products will position us to provide to our customers functionality that they need and require but cannot get anywhere else." Says Leopoldo Jose Naves Alves, Managing Director of Automaton.

"We are seeing rapid acceptance of our root cause software with customers who are using either Six-Sigma, Lean, 5S or Six-Sigma/Lean. These customers cannot get to the next level of process improvement without root cause as the foundation for their improvement programs. Having Automaton joining SlipStream as our first South American re-seller shows us that there is international interest in what we are providing. With Automaton's process based customers we feel that our root cause solution suite will be the added value that their customers are looking for." Says Gary Hopkins, President, CEO of SlipStream Software.
